SWINE RAISING EXTRAORDINARY

Big Company Formed to Raise Hogs De Luke on Reed-Evans Tract: 30,000 Hogs Will Be Capacity of Big Plant

A hundred thousand dollar hog ranch. To raise pork for the market, on the most extensive and luxurious scale ever conceived here, is the purpose of a lately organized company, of which the Reed brothers are the local members. The well-known Reed-Evans tract of 640 acres in Section 10, has been secured, and Col. P. J. Durbin, manager of the company, learned yesterday that the first shipment of 1,300 brood sows was on its way from California. This will be the largest shipment of brood stock ever imported into the valley, and defines somewhat the scale upon which things are being done by the company.

Col. Durbin, an experienced stock raiser, with extensive connections in several livestock raising states, is on the ground and is preparing to put in the plant. Among the features of the ranch will be a water system, capable of supplying half of Phoenix. New ideas in sanitation and watering will be incorporated, together with the probably unique stunt of providing shower baths for the swine.

The formation of this company is thought to presage unparalleled activity looking toward a possible packing house. Taken in connection with the recent organization of the hog raisers of the valley, and later of the cattle feeders, it means that a new interest will be added to the work, and that in all probability development will be so rapid as to make essential a large packing plant within the next few years.

The corporation, which has filed its papers with the state corporation commission, is capitalized for $100,000, all the stock being held by the five members, and none of it being for sale. The incorporators are P. A. Reed and his brother, B. D. Fernes, H. W. Chase and P. J. Durbin.

Within a short time the ranch will be the temporary home of 3,000 hogs, the largest number ever held under single ownership in the southwest. The capacity of the ranch and its fittings will be 30,000 swine.

After Most Prosperous Year Fanciers Will Meet to Name Officers

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Arizona State Poultry Association, will be held Saturday, January 8, at the chamber of commerce. The most successful year in the history of the association has been the year just passed. With more loyal support from some of the members, and a willingness to make a greater effort to attend the meetings, the association would be able to be of lasting benefit to the poultry industry of the state.

Every member who possibly can is urged to attend the annual meeting, as there are several important things to come before the meeting, among them the question of publishing a Year Book for 1916, will be decided.

MAY SEIZE PARCELS

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire] LONDON, Dec. 31.—According to official information supplied to the Associated Press, the British government takes the stand that any parcels sent by mail, no matter what class of postage is paid on them, are liable to seizure if they contain goods which, under the orders in council may not be shipped to or from Germany or her allies. First class, actual postal correspondence, according to this stand, is inviolable on vessels stopped on the high seas and only subject to British municipal laws, when carried on ships which voluntarily call at British ports.
